

AIKIDO WORKSHOP LAS VEGAS

Tachi Dori (Open Hand Sword Defense)

Sunday December 12, 2010 10am-1pm

JAMES STERLING SENSEI SANDAN

This class will focus on tachi dori (open hand sword defense). Understanding that there are many variations to the same movements and techniques in Aikido, and every martial arts style and system, the fundamentals of movement and whole body unification with efficiency and effectiveness remains. This class will explore transitions in movement and direction of energy, keeping a continuous flow of that energy to effectively control a situation. This workshop is open to all skill levels.

This workshop is open to all skill levels. This class provides SHIDOKAN Kyu & ASU Shodan Requirements. All are welcome to observe. Pre-registration is encouraged as there is limited space and all classes will be capped at 20 participants for quality of instruction and safety.

Workshop is conducted by James Sterling, Sandan with the Aikido World Headquarters Dojo in Japan, Sterling Sensei brings a perspective of tactics and strategy from practical application spanning law enforcement & military, personal protection, nightclub & security.
